

Interactive graphics with ggvis

W. Chang

R studio
250 Northern Ave
Boston, MA 02210
United States of America
winston@rstudio.com

Most of the existing data visualization tools for R are targeted toward the creation of static images. ggvis is the next iteration of ggplot2; it brings dynamic, interactive graphics to R, and has the ability to deliver the graphics over the web. In this talk I will provide an introduction to ggvis, and explain the underlying concepts.